Anna Caballero wins in a landslide, pledges to bring people together and deliver results.

Salinas, CA – Joined by supporters from throughout the 30th Assembly District, Anna Caballero celebrated a resounding election night victory on Tuesday in her hometown of Salinas at the Teamsters Union Headquarters. “It is fitting that we celebrate our victory in this Hall, where working families often gather to look for ways to make their lives better,” Caballero said.

“I am honored to have won the overwhelming support of the voters of the 30th Assembly District. Our message of working together—working families and business owners-- to build stronger communities resonated in all corners of the district,” Caballero announced at her election night gathering. “In the end, the endorsement that matters most is the endorsement of the voters, and I’m humbled to have won their support today. They know that I’ll always be on their side.”

Caballero vowed to continue to run a positive campaign about the issues that matter most to the voters heading into the November General Election. “Everyone, from Morgan Hill and Gilroy all the way south to King City, will continue to have a voice in my campaign,” Caballero pledged.

“We have a long road to go and I’ll work hard to meet as many voters as possible to discuss my plan to create jobs, keep our streets safe, and improve our public schools. I want to be your champion, to be your voice, and to be your advocate in the State Capitol. Send me back to Sacramento and I’ll continue to deliver results and rise above partisan, negative politics. The time for action is now.”

Caballero won in a landslide victory on Tuesday in all four counties of the 30th Assembly District: Monterey, Santa Cruz, San Benito, and Santa Clara.
